

Dr. Barbara Murphy
Medical Oncologist
Director of the Cancer Supportive Care Program at Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center

Barbara A. Murphy, MD, is an Associate Professor in the Division of Hematology/Oncology, she also serves as the Director of the Head and Neck Research Program and the Director of the Pain and Symptom Management Program at the Vanderbilt Ingram Cancer Center in Nashville, Tennessee.

Dr. Murphy chairs the Pain and Symptom Management Program Research Team, a multi-disciplinary group of investigators representing numerous schools, divisions and departments within Vanderbilt University Medical Center. The research team is dedicated to investigating symptom control, functional, psychiatric and quality of life issues facing cancer patients and their families. In addition, she serves as the Clinical Director for the Supportive Care Clinic which provides services for patients with challenging symptom control issues.

Dr. Murphy is an Associate Editor for the Journal of Supportive Oncology and is on the Editorial Advisory Board for the Journal of Clinical Oncology. She has also served on numerous institutional and national committees including the National Comprehensive Cancer Network Committee on Cancer Related Fatigue 2007 and the Adult Cancer Committee, the American Society of Clinical Oncology Scientific Program Committee for Patient Supportive Care and the Head and Neck Cancer Steering Committee of the National Cancer Institute Previously-Untreated Locally Advanced Task Force.